- Master Plan of the Pablo de Olavide University (UPO) in Seville, Spain
- Collaboration in several international urban planning competitions

In these different projects Badr was able to collect on the wide range of the activities of an architect. He was involved in the process of how the office thinks, and how we develop and realize our architecture and urban planning. These also gave him the chance to be closely involved in the planning process.

Badr is a good team player and his friendly character was very much appreciated by his colleagues.

Badr leaves us to face a new challenge. We would like to thank him for his contribution to the team and wish all the best for his future career. We recommend him to every future employer
